

PERMIT FOR THE OPERATION OF A SEISMOGRAPH STATION

The University of Nevada Seismological Laboratory operates an earthquake-monitoring network located throughout Nevada, and in portions of California. The primary objective of the network is to record earthquake ground motions and to disseminate the collected information to the general public and to interested researchers.

We request permission from the undersigned ("You") to emplace, operate, and maintain seismograph instruments related to earthquake monitoring ("Seismograph Equipment") on Your property described on page 2 of this permit, subject to the following conditions:

- Precautions will be taken by University of Nevada personnel to avoid any damage to Your property while installing, operating, and maintaining Seismograph Equipment.
- This permission implies no liability on You or Your employees for loss or damage to the Seismograph Equipment, unless loss or damage is willfully caused by You or Your employees.
- The Seismograph Equipment shall be emplaced only in a location agreeable to You, and will remain the property and sole responsibility of the University of Nevada Seismological Laboratory.
- This permit shall remain in effect from this date of authorization until terminated as provided herein. This permit may be terminated at any time by You by providing a 60-day written notice in advance of termination to the University of Nevada Seismological Laboratory at the address listed below. This permit shall automatically terminate upon removal of all Seismograph Equipment from Your property by the University of Nevada. The University of Nevada has the right to remove any or all of the Seismograph Equipment from Your property at any time.
- Data collected by the Seismograph Equipment shall be available to the general public at all times.
- You agree to allow University of Nevada personnel on-site, subject to any special conditions required by You (itemized below).
